Declamations and Compositions during the whole course.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering therefore the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to this department twice a year,—at the commencement of the Spring and Fall terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy ; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry and Botany are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Common Branches.—Greenleaf's Arithmetic, Wells's Grammar, Morse's Geography, History of the United States, General History, Northend's Book-Keeping, Reading, Orthography, Writing, Shurtleff's Governmental Instructor, etc.

Higher Branches.—Day's Algebra ; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry ; Bridge's Conic Sections ; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy ; Kendall's Uranography ; Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double Entry ; Gray's Chemistry ; Mineralogy and Geology ; Lincoln's Botany ; Cutter's Anatomy and Physiology ; Smellie's Philosophy of Natural History ; Paley's Natural Theology ; Evidences of Christianity ; Rhetoric ; Logic ; Upham's Mental Philosophy ; Wayland's Moral Science.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school, who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year, viz. The first commencing four weeks after the first Wednesday of August. The second, three weeks after the Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts. The third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the summer term is four weeks ; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath at the chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student ; and as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term time.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

At the close of every term, a report of the absences of each student will be made out and forwarded to his parents, when requested.

EXPENSES.

A fee of $5.00 is required of each student upon his entrance into the Classical Department.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $6.00, which is remitted to indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college. Students who wish to have their tuition remitted, are required to furnish to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by at least two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary, and that they sustain a good moral character.

Tuition in the English Department is at the rate of 40 cents per week for the common branches, and 50 cents for the higher. In this Department, no entrance fee is required, and tuition is not remitted. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The expense of board in private families varies from $2,50 to $3,00 per week.

Eight or ten lads can be accommodated with board in the family of one of the teachers, at $2,25 per week.

The board in Commons is charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. It will usually be from $1,25 to $1,37 per week. Each student, in Commons, is charged one dollar a term for the use of his room.

Students who board in Commons, are required to pay their board and room-rent at the commencement of each term.

The rooms for the use of the English students are furnished with beds, chairs, tables, etc. Each student provides his own bedding.

The rooms for the Classical students are furnished with a bedstead, under-bed and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here, at small expense.

Declamations and Compositions during the whole course.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to this Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Fall terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy ; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these, and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany, are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The Library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Common Branches.—Greenleaf's Arithmetic, Wells's Grammar, Morse's Geography, History of the United States, General History, Northend's Book-Keeping, Reading, Orthography, Writing, Shurtleff's Governmental Instructor, etc.

Higher Branches.—Day's Algebra ; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry ; Bridge's Conic Sections ; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy ; Kendall's Uranography ; Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double Entry ; Gray's Chemistry ; Mineralogy and Geology ; Lincoln's Botany ; Cutter's Anatomy and Physiology ; Smellie's Philosophy of Natural History ; Paley's Natural Theology ; Evidences of Christianity ; Rhetoric ; Logie ; Upham's Mental Philosophy ; Wayland's Moral Science.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year: the first, commencing four weeks after the first Wednesday of August; the second, three weeks after the Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the summer term is four weeks; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy, are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath at the chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning, in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student; and as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term time.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

At the close of every term, a report of the absences of each student will be made out and forwarded to his parents, when requested.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $7.00, which is remitted to indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college. Students who wish to have their tuition remitted, are required to furnish to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by at least two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary, and that they sustain a good moral character.

Tuition in the English Department is at the rate of forty cents per week for the common branches, and fifty cents for the higher. In this Department tuition is not remitted. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The expense of board in private families varies from $2,50 to $3,00 per week.

Eight or ten lads can be accommodated with board in the family of Mr. Barrows, one of the teachers, at $2,25 per week.

The board in Commons, is charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. It will usually be from $1,25 to $1,37 per week. Each student, in Commons, is charged one dollar a term for the use of his room.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not generally included.

Students who board in Commons, are required to pay their board and room-rent at the commencement of each term.

The rooms for the use of the English students are furnished with beds, chairs, tables, etc. Each student provides his own bedding.

The rooms for the classical students are furnished with a bedstead, under-bed, and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at small expense.

Declamations and Compositions during the whole course.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to this Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Fall terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy ; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these, and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany, are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The Library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Common Branches.—Greenleaf's Arithmetic, Wells's Grammar, Morse's Geography, History of the United States, General History, Northend's Book-Keeping, Reading, Orthography, Writing, Shurtleff's Governmental Instructor, etc.

Higher Branches.—Day's Algebra ; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry ; Bridge's Conic Sections ; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy ; Kendall's Uranography ; Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double Entry ; Gray's Chemistry ; Mineralogy and Geology ; Lincoln's Botany ; Cutter's Anatomy and Physiology ; Smellie's Philosophy of Natural History; Paley's Natural Theology; Evidences of Christianity; Rhetoric; Logic; Upham's Mental Philosophy; Wayland's Moral Science and Political Economy.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year: the first, commencing four weeks after the first Wednesday of August; the second, three weeks after the first Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the summer term is four weeks; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy, are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, at the chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning, in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student; and, as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term-time.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

At the close of every term, a report of the absences of each student will be made out and forwarded to his parents, when requested.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $7.00; this is remitted to indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college. Students who wish to have their tuition remitted, are required to furnish to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by at least two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary, and that they sustain a good moral character.

Tuition in the English Department is at the rate of forty cents per week for the common branches, and fifty cents for the higher. In this Department tuition is not remitted. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The expense of board in private families varies from $2,50 to $3,00 per week.

Eight or ten lads can be accommodated with board in the family of Mr. Barrows, one of the teachers, at $2,50 per week.

The board in Commons, is charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. It will usually be from $1,25 to $1,37 per week. Each student, in Commons, is charged one dollar a term for the use of his room.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not generally included.

Students who board in Commons, are required to pay their board and room-rent at the commencement of each term.

The rooms for the use of the English students are furnished with beds, chairs, tables, etc. Each student provides his own bedding.

The rooms for the classical students are furnished with a bedstead, under-bed and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at small expense.

Declamations and Compositions during the whole course.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to this Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Fall terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these, and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany, are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The Library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this Department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Common Branches.—Greenleaf's Arithmetic, Wells's Grammar, Morse's Geography, History of the United States, General History, Northend's Book-Keeping, Reading, Orthography, Writing, Shurtleff's Governmental Instructor, etc.

Higher Branches.—Day's Algebra; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry; Bridge's Conic Sections; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; Kendall's Uranography; Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double Entry; Gray's Chemistry; Mineralogy and Geology; Lincoln's Botany; Cutter's Anatomy and Physiology; Smellie's Philosophy of Natural History; Paley's Natural Theology; Evidences of Christianity; Rhetoric; Logic; Upham's Mental Philosophy; Wayland's Moral Science and Political Economy.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year: the first, commencing four weeks after the first Wednesday of August; the second, three weeks after the first Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the summer term is four weeks; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy, are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, at the chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning, in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student; and, as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term-time.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

At the close of every term, a report of the absences of each student will be made out and forwarded to his parents, when requested.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $7.00; this is remitted to indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college. Students who wish to have their tuition remitted, are required to furnish to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by at least two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary, and that they sustain a good moral character.

Tuition in the English Department is at the rate of forty cents per week for the common branches, and fifty cents for the higher. In this Department tuition is not remitted. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The expense of board in private families varies from $2,50 to $3,00 per week.

Eight or ten lads can be accommodated with board in the family of Mr. Barrows, one of the teachers, at $2,50 per week.

The board in Commons, is charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. It will usually be from $1,25 to $1,37 per week. Each student, in Commons, is charged one dollar a term for the use of his room.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not generally included.

Students who board in Commons, are required to pay their board and room-rent at the commencement of each term.

The rooms for the use of the English students are furnished with bedstead, under-bed, mattress, table, chairs, and looking-glass. Each student provides his own bedding.

The rooms for the classical students are furnished with a bedstead, under-bed and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at small expense.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to this Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Autumn terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these, and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany, are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The Library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this Department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Common Branches.—Greenleaf's Arithmetic, Wells's Grammar, Morse's Geography, History of the United States, General History, Northend's Book-Keeping, Reading, Orthography, Writing, Shurtleff's Governmental Instructor, etc.

Higher Branches.—Day's Algebra; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry; Bridge's Conic Sections; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; Kendall's Uranography; Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double Entry; Gray's Chemistry; Mineralogy and Geology; Lincoln's Botany; Catter's Anatomy and Physiology; Smellie's Philosophy of Natural History; Paley's Natural Theology; Evidences of Christianity; Rhetoric;

Logic; Upham's Mental Philosophy; Wayland's Moral Science and Political economy.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year: the first, commencing five weeks after the last Wednesday of July; the second, three weeks after the first Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the summer term is five weeks; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy, are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, at the chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning, in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student; and, as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term-time.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

At the close of every term, a report of the absences of each student will be made out and forwarded to his parents, when requested.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $7.00; this is remitted to indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college. Students who wish to have their tuition remitted, are required to furnish to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by at least two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary, and that they sustain a good moral character.

Tuition in the English Department is at the rate of forty cents per week for the common branches, and fifty cents for the higher. In this Department tuition is not remitted. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The price of board at the Boarding House, which is kept by a private family, and is under good regulations, and subject to the general direction of the Trustees, is $2,75 per week.

The expense of board in private families varies from $3,25 to $3,50 per week.

The board in Commons, is charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. At present it is about $1,50 per week. Each student, in Commons, is charged one dollar a term for the use of his room.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not included.

Students who board in Commons, are required to pay their board and room-rent at the commencement of each term.

The rooms for the use of the English students are furnished with bedstead, under-bed, mattress, table, chairs, and looking-glass. Each student provides his own bedding.

The rooms for the classical students are furnished with a bedstead, under-bed and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at small expense.

The "Students Educational Fund," founded by the Senior class of 1854, for the benefit of Worthy Indigent Students, has already reached $1,400. The design is that this Fund shall be increased to at least $10,000.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study, as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to the Classical Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Autumn terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these, and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany, are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The Library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this Department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Common Branches.—Greenleaf's Arithmetic, Wells's Grammar, Morse's Geography, History of the United States (Lossing's or Willson's), General History (Willson's), Northend's Book-Keeping, Reading, Orthography, Writing, Shurtleff's Governmental Instructor, etc.

Higher Branches.—Day's Algebra; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry; Bridge's Conic Sections; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; Kendall's Uranography; Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double Entry; Gray's Chemistry; Mineralogy and Geology; Lincoln's Botany; Cutter's Anatomy and Physiology; Paley's Natural Theology; Evidences of Christianity; Rhetoric; Logic; Upham's Mental Philosophy; Wayland's Moral Science and Political economy.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year: the first, commencing five weeks after the last Wednesday of July; the second, three weeks after the first Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the summer term, is five weeks; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy, are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, at the chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning, in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student; and, as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term-time.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

At the close of every term, a report of the absences of each student will be made out and forwarded to his parents, when requested.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $7.00; this is remitted to indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college. Students who wish to have their tuition remitted, are required to furnish to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by at least two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary, and that they sustain a good moral character.

Tuition in the English Department is at the rate of forty cents per week for the common branches, and fifty cents for the higher. In this Department tuition is not remitted. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The price of board at the Boarding House, which is kept by a private family, and is under good regulations, and subject to the general direction of the Trustees, is $2,75 per week.

The expense of board in private families varies from $3,50 to $4,00 per week.

A large number of students board in Commons; board is here charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. At present it is about $1,75 per week. Each student, in Commons, is charged one dollar a term for the use of his room.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not included.

Students who board in Commons, are required to pay their board and room-rent at the commencement of each term.

The rooms for the use of the English students are furnished with bedstead, under-bed, mattress, and table. Each student provides his own bedding.

The rooms for the classical students are furnished with a bedstead, under-bed, and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at small expense.

The "Students Educational Fund," founded by the Senior class of 1854, for the benefit of Worthy Indigent Students, has already reached $1,800. The design is that this Fund shall be increased to at least $10,000.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study, as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to the Classisal Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Autumn terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

English Department.

Scholars who enter the English Department, will be required to pass a satisfactory examination in Reading, Writing, Spelling, English Grammar, Modern Geography, and Arithmetic through Fractions.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these, and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany, are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The Library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this Department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Reading, Writing, Orthography; Wells's Grammar; Morse's Geography; History of the United States (Lossing's or Willson's); General History (Willson's); Greenleaf's Arithmetic; Day's Algebra; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry; Bridge's Conic Sections; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; Kendall's Uranography; Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double Entry ; Gray's Chemistry ; Mineralogy and Geology ; Lincoln's Botany ; Cutter's Anatomy and Physiology ; Paley's Natural Theology ; Evidences of Christianity ; Rhetoric ; Logic ; Upham's Mental Philosophy ; Wayland's Moral Science and Political Economy.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year : the first, commencing five weeks after the last Wednesday of July ; the second, three weeks after the first Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts ; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the summer term, is five weeks ; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy, are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, at the chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning, in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student ; and, as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term-time.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

At the close of every term, a report of the absences of each student will be made out and forwarded to his parents, when requested.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $7.00 ; this is remitted to indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college. Students who wish to have their tuition remitted, are required to furnish to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by at least two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary, and that they sustain a good moral character.

Tuition in the English Department is fifty cents per week, and is not remitted. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The price of board at the Boarding House, which is kept by a private family, and is under good regulations, and subject to the general direction of the Trustees, is $2,75 per week.

The expense of board in private families varies from $3,50 to $4,00 per week.

A large number of students board in Commons ; board is here charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. At present it is about $1,75 per week. Each student, in Commons, is charged one dollar a term for the use of his room.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not included.

Students who board in Commons, are required to pay their board and room-rent at the commencement of each term.

The rooms for the use of the English students are furnished with bedstead, under-bed, mattress, and table. Each student provides his own bedding.

The rooms for the Classical students are furnished with a bedstead, under-bed, and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at small expense.

The "Students Educational Fund," founded by the Senior class of 1854, for the benefit of Worthy Indigent Students, has already reached $1,800. The design is that this Fund shall be increased to at least $10,000.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study, as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to the Classical Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Autumn terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

English Department.

Scholars who enter the English Department will be required to pass a satisfactory examination in Reading, Writing, Spelling, English Grammar, Modern Geography, and Arithmetic through Fractions.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The Library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this Department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year: the first, commencing five weeks after the last Wednesday of July; the second, three weeks after the first Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the Summer term is five weeks; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, at the Chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning, in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student; and, as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term-time.

No student will be admitted to the Senior Class who does not fully intend to remain till the end of the year.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $8.00. Indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college can be admitted free of tuition by furnishing to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary. But students admitted free of tuition, if they leave before completing the full course, are expected to pay a sum equal to the tuition for the time they were in the school.

Tuition in the English Department is $7.00 for the Autumn term, and $8.00 for each of the other terms. Students are not admitted free of tuition in this Department. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The price of board at the Boarding House, which is kept by a private family, and is under good regulations, and subject to the general direction of the Trustees, is $2.75 per week.

The expense of board in private families varies from $3.50 to $4.00 per week.

A large number of students board in Commons: board is here charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. At the present extreme prices of provisions, it is about $2.00 per week. But it is expected that every student who boards in Commons, will make every consistent effort to keep the board as low as $1.75 per week, the price fixed by the Trustees.

Each student, in Commons, is charged $3.00 a term for the use of his room, to be paid at the commencement of the term; but students admitted free of tuition, pay but $1.00 a term.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not included.

Students who board in Commons are required to pay one-half of their board at the beginning of the term, and the remainder at the middle.

The rooms in the Commons are furnished with a bedstead, under-bed, and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at small expense.

The "Students Educational Fund," founded by the Senior class of 1854, for the benefit of Worthy Indigent Students, has already reached $2,300. The design is that this Fund shall be increased to at least $10,000.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study, as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to the Classical Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Autumn terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

English Department.

Scholars who enter the English Department will be required to pass a satisfactory examination in Reading, Writing, Spelling, English Grammar, Modern Geography, and Arithmetic through Fractions.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The Library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this Department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Reading, Writing, Orthography; Wells's Grammar; Morse's Geography; History of the United States (Lossing's or Willson's); General History (Willson's); Eaton's Arithmetic; Day's Algebra; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry; Bridge's Conic Sections; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; Kendall's Uranography; Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double

Entry; Chemistry; Mineralogy and Geology; Wood's Botany; Hooker's Anatomy and Physiology; Paley's Natural Theology; Evidences of Christianity; Rhetoric; Logic; Upham's Mental Philosophy; Wayland's Moral Science and Political Economy.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year: the first, commencing five weeks after the last Wednesday of July; the second, three weeks after the first Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the Summer term is five weeks; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, at the Chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning, in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student; and, as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term-time.

No student will be admitted to the Senior Class who does not fully intend to remain till the end of the year.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department is $8.00. Indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college, can be admitted free of tuition by furnishing to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary. But students admitted free of tuition, if they leave before completing the full course, are expected to pay a sum equal to the tuition for the time they were in the school.

Tuition in the English Department is $7.00 for the Autumn term, and $8.00 for each of the other terms. Students are not admitted free of tuition in this Department. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The price of board at the Boarding House, which is kept by a private family, and is under good regulations, and subject to the general direction of the Trustees, is $2.75 per week.

The expense of board in private families varies from $3.50 to $4.00 per week.

A large number of students board in Commons: board is here charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. The price during the past year, has been about $1.75 per week. It is expected that every student who boards in Commons, will make every consistent effort to keep the board as low as $1.75 per week, the price fixed by the Trustees.

Each student, in Commons, is charged $3.00 a term for the use of his room, to be paid at the commencement of the term; but students admitted free of tuition, pay but $1.00 a term.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not included.

Students who board in Commons are required to pay one half of their board at the beginning of the term, and the remainder at the middle.

Each room in the Commons has two bed-rooms connected with it. The rooms are furnished with a bedstead for a single bed, under-bed, and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at small expense.

The "Students' Educational Fund," founded by the Senior Class of 1854, for the benefit of Worthy Indigent Students, has already reached $2,300. It is intended to increase this Fund to at least $10,000.

The instruction in this Department is confined to the Latin and Greek Classics, and such other studies as are requisite to prepare young men for college. Each teacher devotes his whole time to two classes, giving twice the usual amount of time to each recitation. This has been found of very great service to the student. Considering, therefore, the single object had in view, and the time afforded each teacher to enter into a full explanation of the difficulties and peculiarities of every lesson, it is believed that few institutions present equal advantages to young men wishing to prepare for college.

The course of study, as marked out, embraces three years; and it is believed that this thorough course is best fitted to prepare the student for the most successful progress in his college studies. No student will be admitted who contemplates entering college before he has completed a thorough course.

New classes are admitted to the Classical Department twice a year, — at the commencement of the Spring and Autumn terms. Students, however, may enter at any time during the year, if they are prepared to join an existing class.

English Department.

Scholars who enter the English Department are required to pass a satisfactory examination in Reading, Writing, Spelling, English Grammar, Modern Geography, and Arithmetic through Fractions.

The course of instruction in this Department is designed to impart a thorough knowledge of the common and higher branches of an English education.

Regular courses of lectures are given on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy; besides occasional lectures on Astronomy, Geology, and various other subjects, as the wants of particular classes require.

The higher classes have exercises in analyzing Milton, Young, and other poets, in connection with a course of familiar lectures on the principles of English Grammar. In these and other exercises of the English Department, special attention is given to those who are desirous of qualifying themselves to become teachers.

The Institution is provided with apparatus sufficient for illustrating very fully most of the important principles in Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, and Astronomy. It has also an extensive cabinet of minerals, and a complete and valuable set of instruments for Practical Surveying and Civil Engineering. Surveying, Chemistry, and Botany are studied during the Spring and Summer term.

The library contains about eight hundred volumes, and is open to all the members of this Department.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Reading, Writing, Orthography; Wells's Grammar; Morse's Geography; History of the United States (Lossing's or Willson's); General History (Willson's); Eaton's Arithmetic; Day's Algebra; Davies's Bourdon, Legendre, Surveying, Analytical Geometry and Descriptive Geometry; Bridge's Conic Sections; Olmsted's Natural Philosophy and Astronomy; Kendall's Uranography Hitchcock's Book-Keeping by Double

Entry ; Chemistry ; Mineralogy and Geology ; Wood's Botany ; Hooker's Anatomy and Physiology ; Paley's Natural Theology ; Evidences of Christianity ; Rhetoric ; Logic ; Upham's Mental Philosophy ; Wayland's Moral Science and Political Economy.

Instruction in Sacred Music is given to all members of the school who wish it, without additional charge.

TERMS, ETC.

There are three Academic terms during the year: the first, commencing five weeks after the last Wednesday of July; the second, three weeks after the first Wednesday before the annual Thanksgiving of Massachusetts; the third, three weeks after the last Wednesday of March. The vacation commencing at the close of the Summer term is five weeks; the other vacations are three weeks each.

Students who wish to enter the Academy are required to furnish testimonials that they sustain a good moral character.

The members of the Academy are required to attend church regularly on the Sabbath, at the Chapel of the Theological Seminary, and also a Biblical exercise every Sabbath morning in the Academy.

A punctual attendance at every exercise is required of each student; and, as the absence from a single recitation interferes with the student's progress, it is earnestly requested that parents would not consent that their sons should return home during term-time.

No student will be admitted to the Senior Class who does not fully intend to remain till the end of the year.

In ordinary cases, students will not be admitted to the Academy, if they intend leaving before the close of the term.

EXPENSES.

Tuition for each term in the Classical Department, is $8.00. Indigent students who complete the full course preparatory for college, can be admitted free of tuition by furnishing to the Treasurer a certificate, signed by two responsible persons, that their circumstances are such as to render the aid necessary. But students admitted free of tuition, if they leave before completing the full course, are expected to pay a sum equal to the tuition for the time they were in the school.

Tuition in the English Department is $7.00, for the Autumn term, and $8.00 for each of the other terms. Students are not admitted free of tuition in this Department. No deduction will be made for occasional absence.

Tuition in both Departments is to be paid at the commencement of each term.

The price of board at the Boarding-House, which is kept by a private family, and is under good regulations, and subject to the general direction of the Trustees, is $2.75 per week.

The expense of board in private families varies from $3.50 to $4.00 per week.

A large number of students board in Commons: board is here charged at its net expense, and varies with the price of provisions. The price during the past year, has been about $1.75 per week. It is expected that every student who boards in Commons, will make every consistent effort to keep the board as low as $1.75 per week, the price fixed by the Trustees.

Each student, in Commons, is charged $3.00 a term for the use of his room, to be paid at the commencement of the term; but students admitted free of tuition, pay but $1.00 a term.

In the above prices of board, whether in private families or Commons, wood, lights, and washing, are not included.

Students who board in Commons are required to pay one-half of their board at the beginning of the term, and the remainder at the middle.

Each room in the Commons has two bed-rooms connected with it. The rooms are furnished with a bedstead for a single bed, under-bed, and table. A bed and bedding are usually brought from home. Other articles necessary to furnish a room can be obtained here at a small expense.

The "Students' Educational Fund," founded by the Senior Class of 1854, for the benefit of Worthy Indigent Students, has already reached $2,300. It is intended to increase this fund to at least $10,000.
